

CLASSIC CHRISTMAS FOR KIDS

Do you have a favorite Christmas memory?

As we celebrate our 19th Christmas at Coyote Hill, our focus again this year is creating memories. Memories and traditions that will last a lifetime. While at Coyote Hill, our children get the best opportunity to experience joy at Christmas. A joy that they can take with them and pass down to their children.

We hope you will join with us as we create memories, grant Christmas wishes and celebrate the love of family. There are many different avenues for you to get involved with Christmas for Kids:

- * Sponsor part or all of a child's wish list.
- * Display a tree at your business for employees to pick ornaments representing a wish of a child.
- * Purchase wrapping paper/gift bags for the gifts.
- * Make a donation for Coyote Hill to purchase gifts.
- * Sponsor part or all of a Home's wish list. (Items needed to upkeep each home.)
- * Create more Christmas memories by volunteering at The Hill.

Again this year, we are designating 2 weeks for gift drop-off. Beginning Monday, November 29 - Friday, December 10, you may bring gifts or donations to our new drop-off location in Columbia. (2909 Falling leaf Lane, Suite D)

Please schedule a time with Kari Salmon to bring gifts. If mailing donations, use the enclosed envelope. To contact Kari:

Dale Johnson, Youth Director at Parkade Baptist Church in Columbia, says it's a matter of the heart...a heart like Jesus', that is.

His youth group tries to do service projects on a regular basis. Does that mean quarterly or monthly? No, this group tries to serve somewhere on a weekly basis. A few years ago they decided to give Coyote Hill a try as one of the places where they would serve. Ever since, they've been coming back once a month and Dale says that his youth absolutely love it.

"Our time spent at Coyote Hill is very hands-on and direct," he explained. "It by far generates the most excitement and highest attendance amongst our youth service projects."

Dale, himself the parent of two adopted children from foster care, is well aware of the challenges and needs of not only our children, but also of our Home Parents.

"As soon as we arrive," Dale explains, "I have a few youth who direct their attention to the very small children and babies. We like to give the Home Parents a break. We also divide into groups, with a couple of groups doing work projects, and a third group just hanging around and playing with the kids, and then before we leave we fix supper for everyone."

Dale and his youth group aren't looking for thanks or recognition. However, he's hopeful that by sharing their story, it will encourage others to get involved at Coyote Hill.

"Coyote Hill is a wonderful example of taking Christ's teachings to heart and living them out on a daily basis. We just love being a part of that."

If you or your group would like to volunteer, contact Kari Salmon at kari@coyotehill.org.

Our thanks to Shelter Insurance's printing department for giving us a great deal on newsletter printing. Now we can show you our "true colors" - hope you enjoy!
